DESPERADO'S DOING.

Bold Bank Robbery at Columbus Grove, Ohio.

UNKNOWN MAN'S GREAT CRIME.

The Cashier Shot Down and an Inoffensive Farmer Killed by the Desperado. All Efforts to Capture the Criminal Are in Vain and the Great Outrage is Liable to Go Unpunished.

LIMA, O., Aug. 10.—A single man, armed with a pair of revolvers, committed the boldest robbery that has been perpetrated in this section of Ohio at a few minutes after 9 o'clock Saturday morning. The dare-devil's deed did not stop at robbery, as he committed murder as well, besides mortally wounding another man. The scene of the tragedy was the Exchange bank, the only institution of its kind, at Columbus Grove, a small village of about 2,000 inhabitants, situated within fourteen miles of this city on the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railroad.

At 9 o'clock Saturday morning, a man went into Crawford's hardware store and asked to look at revolvers. He selected two automatics, 32-caliber, and started out, saying, "I'm Jesse James the second, and am going to paint the town red." Crawford followed him to the door when a revolver was pointed at him, and he was ordered to stand back. Crawford dodged below the counter, and the man walked out. The Exchange bank is next door to the hardware store, divided by a hallway, and into the bank the fellow went.

The particulars of the double crime are startling and cold-blooded, and rival the boldest depredation of the notorious outlaw, Jesse James and his gang.

The tragedy has aroused the entire portion of the country for miles about, and there is no question but that he will be killed, as it is not possible that he will consent to be taken alive, and if he should, the feeling is so intense that he would surely be summarily dealt with.

The man who committed the double crime had been noticed about the town for a day or so. He had called at Kohli & Wells' livery barn and inquired if they had any cheap horses for sale. No one knew him, and it is not known where he kept himself while he planned for his bold break. After fully deciding upon his plan of operation the robber went to John Crawford's hardware store, near the bank, and bought a box of cartridges. He then asked to see some revolvers. He picked up two big ones, and, loading them, presented them at the proprietor's head with the remark: "I'm a second Jesse James, d—n you." The proprietor dodged behind the counter, and the stranger slipped out.

A few minutes later the terrible tragedy at the bank was enacted. After leaving the hardware store, the fellow walked to the Exchange bank, three doors away, and there carried out his desperate work. The Exchange bank is owned by Simon Maple, and is a thriving institution. His son, Thomas J. Maple, is cashier of the bank. He opened up as usual Saturday morning. Being Saturday, a heavy business was expected, and he had taken out over $1,200 in greenbacks and had them near the paying teller's window. To protect the money lying on the counter, a plate glass window, about two feet high, is run round the top of the bar.

Sitting on a chair in the lobby was Abe Syford, of Kalida, who had come to town to transact some business at the bank. His chair was tilted back as he conversed with the cashier, who was not busy, owing to the early hour of the day. Suddenly the scene was changed to one of the wildest excitement. There appeared in the open door of the bank a man evidently on mischief bent. In either hand he flourished a monster revolver. His eyes roved wildly about the room, and without a word he began shooting. The first ball flew harmlessly through the air and lodged in the wall above the cashier's head.

Before Mr. Maple could make a move to secure the revolver that was always kept for such an emergency, a second shot from the robber's revolver shattered the bones of his right arm. Another shot and the cashier fell from his chair, pierced in the right side by a deadly ball. Syford had been a silent witness of the crime. He could not stir nor speak. He expected every minute his turn would come next, and he was paralyzed with fear. Turning to him, the desperado spoke for the first time, and in the fondest language ordered him not to stir or he would meet a similar fate.

At this juncture, William Vandermark, an old farmer appeared on the scene. He deliberately walked to his death. As he stepped inside the door the villain heard him. The old man thought it a little strange that he had heard shooting inside a bank. He had read of the wild pranks of the James and Younger brothers, but that was out west where such things might be expected. The desperado man within could take no chances, however. He knew not the old man's errand, and having gone thus far, did not intend to be baffled. Without a word he faced the farmer and leveled the gun at him. The unfortunate victim had turned just half way round when the ball struck him in the side just above the hip and passed almost through his body.

He fell bleeding and senseless, while Syford sat horrified and spell-bound. With the but-end of the revolver the fellow broke the plate-glass, and, showing his arm through the ragged aperture, raked up all the money, amounting to about $1,200, and thrust it into the side pockets of his long sack coat. Just then a farmer named Silas McComb, who was driving along the street, was attracted by the shots. The fellow stepped to the door and ordered him to drive on, and emphasized his orders by discharging several chambers of his revolver at McComb, who fortunately escaped being hit by the leaden missiles, although one of them went through his hat and grazed the flesh on the top of his head.

The inquiring farmer lost no time whatever in driving away and attending to his own business. By this time several people had been attracted by the sounds of the shots. The desperado inside realized that it was time for him to be skipping. Again brandishing his revolver in true western style, he dashed out on the street. There was a wild scatterment on the part of the people. No one was looking for thieves and murderers, and there was not a weapon in the crowd. The greatest excitement prevailed near the bank. W. T. Maple, a brother of the wounded

He heard the sounds of firing and was hurrying to the front of the store to find out the cause, when he received the startling intelligence from an individual that his father and brother had been killed and the bank robbed. Hurrying out on the street he caught sight of the fleeing freebooter running at the top of his speed. The fellow ran down an alley several doors below the bank, and was last seen disappearing into a big cornfield at the edge of town.

The wildest kind of rumors were afloat, and the news spread over the town and surrounding country like wildfire. T. J. Maple, the cashier, soon recovered consciousness and was able to keep up long enough to direct the movements of the others. He has a bad arm, but it is thought the wound in the side is not serious. The ball passed through too near the flesh to reach any vital point.

Farmer Vandemark was found to be the worst injured. He was picked up tenderly and carried to a physician's office. An examination of the wound developed the fact it is necessarily fatal. The doctor probed for the ball, but was unable to locate it, though it is believed it lodged near the skin of the opposite side from the point of entrance. Mr. Vandemark is a farmer living about four miles from Columbus Grove, in Union township. He had driven into town with some hogs and received an order on the bank for his money. He had just stepped in to present the order for payment when he was struck down by the leaden messenger of death.

Realizing that his end was near he requested to be conveyed to his home, five miles in the country, as he wanted to die there, and his wish was gratified. He has a wife and several children. Cashier Maple was at once removed to his residence on High street, where every attention is being given him.

It was only a few minutes after the shooting until the entire town was aroused and posses were being organized to start in pursuit of the robber. Telegrams were sent out to all surrounding towns. The description of the fellow is that he is about five feet seven inches tall, heavy set, with full face and small black mustache. He wore a black alpaca cap, long sack coat of the same material and color, blue striped pants and no vest. He appeared to be about thirty-five years old. He was known by no one, but now that the affair has been enacted there are several who claim to have seen him hanging about the town for several days.

Business was suspended immediately after the affair, business men locking their doors and joining in the pursuit with lawyers, doctors and other professional men as well as the laboring men, who left their work with the intention of avenging the crime. A large square was formed several miles in length, and the march commenced. Every few minutes messengers came back to the town bearing the latest information regarding the whereabouts of the desperado.

The first news received was that he had been seen on foot near Rockport, six miles southeast of Columbus Grove, and later word was received that the square was gradually being closed up, and that they were within a few minutes of him. The men are armed with all sorts of weapons, from guns to revolvers, knives and clubs. It would be folly for the fugitive to make any resistance. But it is expected that he will make a desperate fight for his life, which will surely be taken if he is seen, whether he makes any resistance or not.

It is now said that the desperado is beyond reach, and it is questionable if he is ever caught at all. After the chase was given up the man stopped with some laborers building a pipeline about two miles east of Beaver Dam and at the crossing of the Lake Erie railroad at a point one mile west of Bluffton, Pa. He went into a pasture and stole a black mare at 1 o'clock Sunday morning four miles east of Bluffton. He followed a farmer and his family home who had been attending a show and with his ready revolver compelled them to get him a meal.

The stolen horse was tied to the branches of a tree by a rope halter during his stay at this place, and an attempt was made to buy a buggy and harness or even a bridle from the farmer, but the attempt was in vain. It is highly probable that the hunted man has rode his horse into Findlay, jumped a train and is by this time far away. It was almost noon yesterday before the theft of the horse was discovered, and much later when the direction taken was learned. Hundreds of men are in the chase now where there were ten Saturday, and the time is spent about the bushes from which the bird has fled.

Reneau, You Must Go.

St. Louis, Aug. 10.—The seven clubs in the Base Ball Association have signed a paper requesting President Reneau, of the Cincinnati club, to resign. The seven clubs own and support the Cincinnati club. The president gets a salary of $800 a month. He is considered useless, hence the request for his resignation. There is trouble in the wue.

SEALERS CAPTURED.

Reports Received by the Department at Washington.

ADVENTURERS OF THE RUSH.

A Number of Vessels Persist in Catching Seals in Defiance of the United States and British Governments—Reports Sent to the Treasury Department by Other Steamers.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Captain Coulson, commanding the revenue cutter Rush, reports to the treasury department, under date of Ounalaska, July 9, that on the 6th inst., while cruising to the northward of Unimak pass with his command for the purpose of warning vessels in pursuit of seals not to enter Behring sea, he fell in with the British schooner Eb Marvin, Caleb McDougall, master, of Victoria, B. C., having on board twenty-three men and all the implements, raft, etc., necessary for sealing.

Upon being hailed, Captain McDougall said he was sealing. Captain Coulson therefore lowered a boat and sent Lieutenants Newcomb and Cantwell to board and thoroughly examine the vessel. It was then ascertained that the Marvin had been boarded on July 1, by the United States steamer Thetis near the Island of Unga, and furnished with a copy of the president's proclamation and the necessary warning was given to the master not to enter the Behring sea for the purpose of sealing. On that occasion the master reported that he "had no seal skins on board."

He refused to allow the boarding officers of the Thetis to indorse on his register the fact that he had been notified, and is reported as being otherwise "uncivil." On examination by the officers of the Rush, two fresh seal skins were found on board. The circumstances of the case and the evident intent of the latter to continue sealing notwithstanding the warning was considered sufficient by Captain Coulson to justify the seizure of the vessel. Lieutenant Quinn was placed on board and the vessel, crew, arms, seal skins, papers, etc., were delivered into the custody of Lieutenant Commander Mead, United States navy, commanding the steamer Alicki, and were subsequently turned over to Captain Turner, of her British majesty's ship Nymph, which arrived at Ounalaska on the 7th inst.

Captain Hopper, commanding the revenue steamer Corwin, reports to the treasury department, under date of Ounalaska, July 18, the seizure of the American schooner La Ninfa, of San Francisco, near St. Paul's island, on the 14th inst., for violation of the president's proclamation. This vessel was boarded in Behring sea, and warned by the United States steamer Thetis on the 7th inst., and a certificate to that effect indorsed on her manifest. She had then on board nineteen seal skins. Instead of heeding the warning to leave, the La Ninfa remained there until seized seven days later by the Thetis. No additional skins were found on her. Third Lieutenant Johnson was placed in charge of the prize, with a detail of four armed men, with orders to proceed to Ounalaska. The Corwin arrived there on the 16th inst., and will await the arrival of the La Ninfa.

On July 18, the United States steamers Mohican, Alert and Thetis and the British ships Nymph and Pheasant are cruising in Behring sea. The Mohican and Rush were at St. Paul's Island on the 13th. Eighty sealing vessels are known to be in the sea or on their way there. Captain Hopper says there has been a great deal of fog, which makes it difficult to find the sealers, but of those boarded the catch has been small on account of rough, windy weather.

The treasury department is informed that the revenue steamer Bear, Captain Healy commanding, sailed from Ounalaska, June 30, for Point Barrow, Alaska, and touched at the seal islands for the purpose of leaving the instructions to the treasury agents to limit the catch of the Alaska Commercial company this season to 7,500 seal skins. It is learned from other sources that this company has already secured this number of skins, and that open sealing has been entirely suspended for the season.

QUARRELED OVER DICE.

ENGLISH, Ind., Aug. 10.—Crawford county is in a furor of excitement over the killing of Ben B. Brown, Jr., in Bob Kempell's saloon here Friday night. Brown had been drinking too freely during the day, and was engaged in a game of dice with Robert Pike, an Air Line brakeman, when a dispute arose. After a few hot words the men each drew their revolvers and began firing, to the consternation of the loungers in the place.

Nine shots were fired, four by Pike from a murderous 38-caliber pistol, every one of which took effect, one passing entirely through Brown's body, killing him almost instantly. Pike escaped with but three flesh wounds; two in the left arm and one in the breast, none of which are serious. Pike was placed under arrest at once and taken to jail at Leavenworth. Before leaving he telegraphed his relatives in Chattanooga, Tenn., that he had killed a man in self-defense, and needed assistance. He is aged about 35 years, and single.

Ben Brown, the murdered man, was a prominent young farmer and politician, a nephew of County Sheriff Brown. His age was twenty-four, and he was unmarried. He was a royal good fellow when sober, and but for his reputation as a terror when drinking his many friends would undoubtedly lynch his murderer.

This neighborhood, the home of the White Caps, has long since acquired an unenviable reputation. At a picnic at Millin, five miles north of here, a few days ago, Laban Hughes was shot and killed by George Taylor, a local tough. One hundred dollars reward is offered for the murderer, who escaped.

KILLED HIS FATHER.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 10.—George F. Nieman, a shoemaker at 186 Everett street, was shot and instantly killed yesterday by his son, Charles F. Nieman, aged 20, at 18 Gorman street. The shooting resulted from a family quarrel, which has been in progress for several years. About ten years ago Mrs. Nieman procured a divorce from her husband for cruelty, but he was allowed to retain a room in the house, which belongs to the wife.

The quarreling among the members of the family and the old man has been frequent, owing to his violent temper. Yesterday he began to abuse his wife and two daughters, Anna and Emma. The son who was up stairs, hearing the noise, came out and saw his father with a pair of tongs in his hand upraised as if to strike his mother, who is a cripple. He rushed back and got a revolver, just then the old man made a motion as if to strike his mother, when he leveled his revolver at his father and fired, the bullet passing through his heart, causing death instantaneous. The young man surrendered himself to the police and was locked up at the Oliver street station. He is assistant secretary of the Cincinnati Insurance company.

WOMEN FLOGGED.

Fifty Lashes Each, on the Bare Back, Every Stroke Bringing Blood.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 10.—News comes from Wesson, Miss., of the flogging of two white women by a party of white men on Wednesday night. The women came from the north, and were known as Agnes Reardon and Mamie Hosper. The women often visited a cabin in the outskirts of town, at which two negroes were frequent visitors. A notice was posted on the door. They did not heed the warning, and on Wednesday night a party of thirty men went to the cabin, knocked down the door and captured the inmates.

They were stripped to the waist and bound to trees. The thirty men then took turns in flogging their bare back with a blacksnake whip, every stroke bringing blood. The women received forty-five or fifty lashes each, when they fainted from pain. The men were given a larger dose. After the women regained consciousness they and the two men were allowed to return to the cabin and dress. Then they were started north on the railroad track.

MAN BOILED TO DEATH.

Horrible Fate of Fleming Hardwell, of Findlay, Ohio.

FINDLAY, O., Aug. 10.—Fleming Hardwell, employed at the Salem wire nail mills, met with a terrible accident Friday night, about 8:30 o'clock, which resulted in his death Saturday. He was engaged in the wire-drawing department, and in some manner his feet slipped and he fell backward into a vat of boiling-hot water and quicklime.

He was helped out of his horrible bath by his fellow-laborers as quickly as possible, but no before his entire body had been terribly scalded. He had been completely immersed, with the exception of his head. He was removed to a neighboring house, and as his clothes were taken off his cooked flesh fell off in great chunks.

Everything possible was done for the injured man, but his condition was too serious to hope for any relief, and his sufferings were ended by death. The man was about twenty-six years old, unmarried and had been here only three weeks, having come here from Salem, where he was employed by the same company.

DROUTH IN MEXICO.

Crops Amount to Nothing and Much Suffering Will Result.

HAVANA, Tex., Aug. 10.—Those who have lived twenty-five years on the Rio Grande have never seen so much misery among the Mexican population as this year. The staple crop of the Rio Grande valley is corn and the Mexican frijole, but the drouth has been so terrible for the last eighteen months that scarcely anything has been raised and stock has died by thousands. Many men, who two years ago were considered well off, have nothing but their land. Hundreds of the laboring men have left the frontier and are finding work north of the Nueces river. If the drouth continues until the cold northers come on there will be but little cattle to live through the winter, and many families will suffer for the necessities of life. The drouth is confined to a few counties in Texas, but extends further into Mexico.

VINCENNES, Ind., Aug. 10.—While under a temporary aberration of the mind, produced by an excessive dose of belladonna, Richard Barekman, a young farmer, cut his throat with a pocket-knife, Saturday night, and is dying. He had been sick and was taking medicine. He had made a previous attempt to kill himself with a gun, but was prevented by his father.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—The Examiner states that Balmaceda, through Minister Egan, has offered the United States $4,000,000 for the cruiser Baltimore. The offer was refused. Admiral Brown has taken the Baltimore for his flagship and is now in sole command in the south Pacific. It is expected the Charleston will leave for Honolulu in about three weeks as another revolution is feared.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
Proprietors.

MONDAY, AUGUST 10, 1891.

SOME of our exchanges have probably got Mayfield contounded with Maysville. This city is not negotiating for water works. There is no necessity for such negotiations, as one of the finest water works in the country has been in operation here for years.

"SEVEN counties did the clinging act, Boone, Lincoln, Breathitt, Harlan, Nicholas, Cumberland and Estill," says the Covington Commonwealth. Yes, seven voted for the old Constitution, but one hundred and twelve voted the other way.

THE Stanford Interior Journal is trying to start a boom for General Castleman for Governor. The Interior Journal shouldn't be in a hurry. Castleman's conduct in the last campaign hasn't strengthened him with the people. The idea of the Democratic party "owing him a debt of gratitude?" And for what, please?

SMITH Cook, the Shelby County giant, seems to rest under the impression that he was cut out expressly for the position of Doorkeeper of the Kentucky House of Representatives. He is no doubt a good man for the place, but there are others just as well qualified and as worthy. His applications are becoming chronic, and there are other place-hunters in the same boat with him.

KENTUCKY'S NATIONAL BANKS.

Their Last Reports to the Controller of the Currency Make a Fine Showing.

Reports from sixty-eight National banks in Kentucky, exclusive of the Louisville banks, showing condition of the banks at the close of business on Thursday, July 9, 1891, have just been received by the Controller of the Currency. The reports show the National banks of Kentucky to be in a healthy condition, and also show a material increase in business over last year. The aggregate of the totals shows:

Loans and discounts	$20,023,666 76
Due from approved reserve agents	1,401,287 19
Due from other National banks	325,180 67
Due from State banks and bankers	262,631 56
Current expenses and taxes paid	54,154 39
Capital stock paid in	10,292,900 00
Surplus fund	2,760,777 11
Undivided profits	655,297 43
Individual deposits	11,198,571 03
United States deposits	1,568,749 07
Amount of reserve held	21.42 percent

The Controller says these reports are very flattering, and show that the National banks of Kentucky are on a firm foundation. The amount of reserve required to be held by the banks outside of Louisville is only 19 per cent. The banks in Kentucky, however, believe it in good policy to have just a little more reserve than is called for by law, and, therefore, are always on the safe side, says the Courier-Journal.

Foster's Weekly Forecast.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo.—My last letter gave forecasts of the very changeable weather from August 4 to 14. The next storm wave will be due to leave the Pacific coast about the 16th, cross the Rocky-Allegheny valley from the 17th to 19th, and reach the Atlantic coast about the 20th. The regular movements of these midsummer storm waves from west to east will not be so manifest to casual observers as were those of the spring months. The rains and other effects will develop only in isolated localities and will appear more as chance and irregular disturbances than the effects of regular storm waves. This storm wave will inaugurate the hottest period of the summer and bring the finest corn and cotton weather of the season. The weather will not be settled, but changeable from the 16th to the 22nd, after which it will be more uniformly warm and dry.

DEERING CAMP GROUNDS, AUGUST 8, 1891.

One hundred and forty-two cottages all occupied averaging about six persons to each cottage—a large per cent. of nicely dressed children from babyhood to sweet thirteen, so with arrivals by each train we have in camp a thousand population all the time. The great organist B. F. Bristow arrived last night and with E. S. Fogg leading on the cornet we are having a fine afternoon concert, for the benefit of the children. The music is very attractive. Bristow gives the organ all the variety and sweetness of the piano and Fogg's cornet is as soft as flute. They understand their mystic art of dovetailing in music. Two good sermons on Friday by Rev. Dr. Barling. At 11, text Rev. 3rd, 28th, "To him who overcometh will I grant him to sit with me in my throne. At twilight, text Luke 23, 42, "Lord, remember me."

Among the campers from Mason we have Chas. F. Rhodes and family, Mrs. Len Y. Browning, Mrs. Amanda Watson and grand daughter, Maggie Duke Watson, Mrs. A. J. Ware, Mrs. Dr. Brown, son and daughter, Miss Belle Arthur, Sam Vaughn; the Hendricks and Evans of Fleming; the Kellers, Adams and Turnam of Carlisle; M. A. McClure and family of Winchester; Mrs. W. Live Stock and the Turf.

Pilot Medium has added six new ones to his old list of eleven trotters and two pacers, which gives him a total of nineteen 2:30 performers.

Baron Hirsch's winnings on the turf thus far this season are reported to be $40,000, all of which he has devoted to charitable institutions.

"He wins his race in the first quarter and jogs the rest of the way," is the way they describe Frank Oxman, the new Tennessee pacing cyclone.

Tobacco which had been looking badly in Owen has started to growing finely, says the News, and the prospects are that the usual large crop and fine quality of the weed will be raised this year.

The largest exports of wheat ever made from this country were in 1881, when 186,000,000 bushels were sent out, for which we averaged about $1.19 per bushel. The smallest exports for fifteen years were in 1888—88,000,000 bushels. Our exports last year were 108,000,000 bushels.

River News.

The Bonanza will be withdrawn from the Maysville trade to-day.

The regular Pomeroy packets hereafter will be the steamers Bostona, St. Lawrence and Bonanza.

Due down: Chancellor, Stanley and Batchelor this evening and New South to-night. Due up: Carrollton for Portsmouth at 9 p. m., Bostona for Pomeroy and Scotia for Pittsburg at midnight.

Captain Frank Ellison says the last down trip of the Hudson was the best in the way of passengers she ever carried. At no time after leaving Pittsburg had she less than 150 registered, and many were for the round trip from that city.

The Congo and Carrollton will be the daily packets in the Cincinnati and Portsmouth trade. One of the boats will pass down every evening and the other up. They are new and finely equipped steamers. The new arrangement will suit Maysville shippers very well.

Railroad Jottings.

The cheapest car fare known is said to be the three cents fare on the Pittsburg Traction road for a distance of six miles.

W. F. Berry, of Lexington, has brought suit against the Kentucky Central Railroad for $1,000 because his horse got frightened at one of the trains, threw him out of his phaeton and bruised him considerably.

There is a man who lives entirely on a Georgia train. He goes every night to the sleeper, pays his $1.50 and gets in his berth and sleeps through to Augusta. Next night he goes back to Atlanta. He has plenty of money and never has anything to say to the conductor or anybody else.

Champion Chess Player.

The chess contest at Lexington last week for the championship of this country resulted in a victory for J. W. Showalter, an ex-citizen of Mason County. This is the third time in succession he has won the championship.

Showalter's defeated opponent in this last tournament, W. H. K. Pollock, is a chess player of international reputation. He was born in Ireland, and first came into conspicuous notice by winning the championship of that nation about five years ago. Afterwards he won the International Tournament at Belfast, making the remarkable record of winning every game and both rounds, defeating such players as Blackburn, of England; Gunsburg, of Hungary, and Burn, a Scotchman.

The Best Remedy for Cholera Morbus.

(From the Des Moines (Iowa) Leader.) Some weeks ago a Leader man went into a drug store and asked: "What is the best remedy for cholera morbus?" He was told: "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy." The medicine was purchased, and worked like a charm. It proved to be very effective, and since we found by experience in our own household that this particular remedy was of real value, we have not hesitated to speak of its merits as occasion offered. For sale by Power & Reynolds.

Snout breath, palpitation, pain in chest, weak or faint spells, etc., cured by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. Sold at J. J. Wood's.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

EIGHTEEN applicants for teacher's certificates presented themselves for examination before the County Board of Examiners on Friday and Saturday last. At the examination in July there were twenty-two. The Institute will open next Monday, August 17th.

The tobacco reports coming in from the country vary considerably, some portions claiming a short crop but others a very large yield. Frank Owens Hardware Company are manufacturing the celebrated Armstrong tobacco knives, and can furnish any number of them to the wholesale trade.

White Dresses No Longer Worn.

"Speaking retrospectively," said a fashionable widow, "when I was a girl in society the white dress was considered one of the sweetest things a young lady could wear. Now one never sees them except at a commencement or a wedding. Prints, prints, prints! Even the sweet girl graduate in a white dress is a rarity. As for Broadway, the sight of a white dress on anybody but an infant is a thing of general feminine comment."

"I know it is rather daring to venture an opinion in this era of colors, but I think now that a young and pretty woman in pure white is the loveliest vision in the world of beauty. She need not be so very young, either, if reasonably pretty. I've seen women who could be called without offense neither young nor pretty who looked better in white than anything they could have put on."

The Bane of the Unruly Student.

The dean's office at Harvard is, from the nature of affairs, a purgatory. A "summons" to the dean means that there is trouble for the man who is summoned. The high court of justice sits in the dean's office. That is, it does so far as the undergraduates know, for here are delivered all the court's decisions. At one time in the history of Harvard college there hung in the room of every undergraduate a cartoon. It was a picture of "U 5"—the dean's office.

A grinning Mephistopheles stood at the door welcoming a long line of condemned wretches. Over the door was this legend, "Who enters here leaves all hope behind." Nearly every man who in recent years has left Harvard college in disgrace has left hope behind when he last entered the door of "U 5."—New York Tribune.

Few Murderers Repent.

There is a popular notion to the effect that a murderer is necessarily pursued by the furies of regret and repentance; but the truth seems to be that such feelings are rarely entertained by the offender. Surgeon Bruce Thomson, of the general prison of Scotland, says that of the 500 murderers he has known only three could be ascertained to have exhibited any remorseful symptoms. The true criminal is unrestrained by moral perception from crime and the same lack of sensibility forbids contrition.—Washington Star.

Do not be angry if the roosters awaken you at daybreak. Remember that if you went to bed at sunset you would be willing to get up with the chickens, and roosters don't stop to consider such things.

Confirmed.

The favorable impression produced on the first appearance of the agreeable liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs a few years ago has been more than confirmed by the pleasant experience of all who have used it, and the success of the proprietors and manufacturers of the California Fig Syrup Company.

A MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR.

An Unknown Man Wounded Near Deering Camp Ground.

A mysterious shooting affair took place in "Smoky Hollow," near Deering Camp Ground, about 12 o'clock yesterday. An unknown man, said to be from Cincinnati, was shot and dangerously wounded by another man, whose identity he refuses to reveal. The whole affair is clouded in mystery.

"Smoky Hollow," which has been a great eyecore to the camp meeting for years, is situated just across the railroad track from the camp grounds, and is the nest of gamblers and members of the demi-monde. The Sheriff, yesterday afternoon, made a raid on the place, but the fraternity seems to have had a tip, as only two arrests were made; whereas, shortly before, it is said, as many as twenty or twenty-five games were in progress.

It is thought the man was brought to this city in the afternoon and taken from here to Cincinnati.

'Squire Reynolds Dead.

'Squire J. W. Reynolds, a pioneer citizen of Dover, dropped dead yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, of apoplexy. He was well and favorably known throughout the county and had been identified with the tobacco trade there for the past twenty years.

Deceased was sixty-six years old, and leaves a wife and daughter, Belle Everett, who recently married C. W. Hanna. His last wife was the widow of the late Archibald Alexander. His death creates a vacancy in the office of Justice of the Peace at Dover.

A Terrible Thunder Storm Cools Off the Atmosphere but Does Destructive Work—A Storm Ends a Two Days' Heat in Iowa—The Weather Elsewhere.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Yesterday was the hottest day of the season in this city. A storm came up, however, about 4 p. m. which cooled the atmosphere considerably, and during the progress of which a strange phenomena occurred. About 6 o'clock a bolt of lightning tore through the black clouds and struck with a deafening crash at the corner of Hermitage avenue and Polk street. Two big balls of fire, each as large as a half-bushel measure, fell in the middle of the street, and for a moment blinded the fifteen or twenty persons standing in the vicinity. Several men were hurled to the ground, and a little girl was slightly burned.

A dead man named Bertram was stumbled upon by Sliff in the afternoon, the sun having killed him, and left him in a lumber yard.

Among others who were prostrated, but who will probably recover, are Joseph Rick, Victor Watson and Powell Komm.

The Weather in Iowa.

OTTUMWA, Aug. 10.—A heavy wind of cyclonic proportions was the consummation of the terrific heat of the past two days. Humeston, Corydon, Centerville, Ottumwa, Agency and other towns that lay in its path suffered more or less. At Humeston cars were blown from the track of the Keokuk and Western road, the round house was demolished and houses unroofed. Fields of grain were prostrated, creating great loss. At Corydon the large court house was unroofed and the county offices damaged. The Methodist church was demolished and the depot blown down.

At Ottumwa the gale swept the roofs from the stores of A. D. Moss, A. P. Peterson, the large warehouse of Harper, McIntyre & Company, and the "O" round house. The Coal Palace tower was twisted, the windows blown in and the scaffolding thrown across telegraph and telephone wires, shutting off communication for a few hours. At Franklin Park, Agency and Batavia buildings were unroofed and large trees uprooted. No persons are reported killed, but the damage to crops and other property will be great.

Four People Drowned.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 10.—Four young people, children of prominent business men, were drowned at Lake Pewaukee, twenty miles from here yesterday. They were out in a small boat with three other young people. A squall struck the boat, capsizing it. It was heavily belated, and sunk almost immediately, leaving the seven people struggling in the water. The names of the drowned are: Albert and Emma Barth, Martha Kindling and Clara Siegler, their ages ranging from ten to twenty. Their fathers are Louis Kindling, Peter Barth and Leopold Siegler. The young people had been spending a few days at the lake, which is a favorite resort.

Shot at a Camp Meeting.

BOYD'S STATION, Md., Aug. 10.—A shooting affray occurred yesterday at Barnesville, near this place, where a camp meeting was going on, in which one man was killed and three others were seriously wounded. While waiting for a train a party of colored men became engaged in a dispute over some cigars, when Louis Brown, of Richmond, Va., became incensed at what was said and he struck one of his companions with a stone. This was the signal for a general fight and five pistol shots were fired. Brown was killed, shot through the body, and three others were wounded.

Dropped Dead from Heart Disease.

ST. MARY'S, O., Aug. 10.—S. F. Guest, a prominent sewing machine agent of this city, dropped dead from heart disease Saturday morning while in Sheol's office. He had just returned from the country where he had made a sale, and, being subject to heart trouble, went to the doctor's office and complained of severe pains in the region of the heart, but scarcely had he done so when he fell over and expired. He leaves a wife and three children. The remains were shipped to Lima, O., for burial.

Fell Dead in a Saloon.

DAYTON, O., Aug. 10.—A. C. Hockett, aged 33 years, the popular and highly esteemed clerk of the Beckel House here, fell dead Saturday afternoon. Mr. Hockett had been a clerk at the Beckel House for a number of years, and it is said that while his wife was visiting relatives in Warren county, Hockett took a vacation since last Thursday, during which time he drank considerably, and while in a saloon on the West Side he died very suddenly. The coroner has not determined the cause of his death.

Sensational Arrest.

RACINE, Wis., Aug. 10.—Louis Christianson, a merchant of Raymond Center, had a warrant issued yesterday for the arrest of Dr. C. M. Palmer, charging him with burglarizing his store Saturday night. Owing to the prominence of the defendant, Christianson's action has caused a great sensation. Palmer was one of the electors of the state on the Republican presidential ticket of 1888. He says he can prove his innocence.

Sudden Storm at Buffalo, N. Y.

BUFFALO, Aug. 10.—A sudden gust of wind came up at a late hour last night and startled the community, slammed doors, smashed windows etc., and on the whole the action was very cyclonic. No serious accident is reported along the water front. Several tugs are reported to have saved several people from drowning who had been capsized in small boats, but no detailed story can be obtained.

TORN BY A TORNADO.

Ashland and Washburn, Wis., Struck by a Furious Blast.

ASHLAND, Aug. 10.—A tornado struck this place at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, demolishing buildings and tearing things up in general. A heavy rain accompanied it, flooding the streets for hours after.

At Washburn, across the bay from Ashland, the tornado's force was more furious. Business blocks were seriously damaged, and seven people in one building were slightly injured. Professor Williams' circus was giving a performance. The tents were torn to shreds, and scores of people were injured, but fortunately only two people were killed—George Bebel and Louis Wilson. The animals escaped from their cages, and are still running wild in the streets. About 60,000 bushels of grain is damaged in the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha elevator. Several pleasure yachts were caught on Chequamegon bay, and have not been heard from as yet.

The roof was stripped from the Fifield block. The Swedish Baptist church was lifted four feet from its foundations and turned around, and numerous small buildings twisted about. On the bay front half a dozen little yachts were moored. They all broke away from their fastenings and were wrecked upon the shore. Among them is the handsome little Sheeny, which won the race a week ago. The total damage amounts to $10,000.

The worst effects of the storm were experienced at Washburn, on the opposite side of the bay. The postoffice building, a frame structure on Main street, in which were half a dozen persons, collapsed, and caught the inmates in what seemed to be a death trap, but by a fortunate lodgement of timbers they all escaped without injury, except two women, one of whom suffered a broken leg, and the other a contusion of the head. Half a dozen other buildings are badly wrecked.

The roof of the Omaha elevator was lifted up and dashed into the bay, exposing the stock of wheat to the rain. Dericks and hoisting engines at the coal dock were blown over and ruined, and many thousand feet of lumber piled in the yards of the Bigelow mills were blown into the water. Several sail boats are reported lost on Chequamegon bay, but reports are not verified, and until the full extent of the storm is known the damage to marine interests can not be computed. The damage at Washburn is probably $50,000.

THE WARNING NOT HEEDED.

Two White Women and Two Negroes Whipped by a Mob of Regulators.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 10.—News comes from Weason, Miss., of the flogging of two white women by a party of white men on Wednesday night. The women came from the north and were known as Agnes Reardon and Mamie Hoepel. They often visited a camp in the outskirts of town at which two negroes were frequent visitors. A notice was posted on the door of the cabin warning the four to leave town. They did not heed the warning.

Wednesday night a party of thirty men went to the cabin, knocked down the door and captured the inmates. They were stripped to the waist and bound to trees. The men took turns in flogging the bare backs with a black-snake whip, every stroke bringing blood. The women received from forty-five to fifty lashes each and then fainted from pain.

The men looked at the terrible punishment and were given a larger dose. After the women had regained consciousness they and the two men were allowed to return to the cabin and dress. Then they started north on the railroad.

SIX LIVES LOST.

BOSTON, Aug. 10.—A sad accident occurred on Dorchester bay yesterday afternoon by which six persons lost their lives. The yacht Nay, owned and sailed by Captain J. M. Burke, started on a cruise about the bay yesterday afternoon, having on board four men and five children. There was a light breeze blowing, but yachtsmen say the boat was overcrowded. In tacking the vessel keeled over too far and the entire party was thrown into the river.

Skipper Burke, aged 46, was one of the victims. The others who were lost are: Thaddeus Manthou, aged 30; Nellie Burke, aged 11; James Burke, aged 8; Thomas Carmody, aged 11; Annie Carmody, aged 13; Vincent Burke, aged 14; Fergus Churchill, aged 30, and Thomas Ballard, aged 30, succeeded to clinging to the overturned boat from which they were taken by a passing boat when they were almost exhausted. The bodies of the victims have all been recovered.

GOES UP FOR LIFE.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 10.—Judge Pugh overruled the motion for a stay of execution in the Elliott murder case and sentenced the prisoner to the penitentiary for life. He spoke in very plain terms of the murder of Osborn. When Elliott arose to be sentenced he claimed the shooting was done in self-defense and for protection of his family honor. He called on God to witness his innocence.

Sad Sight to Witness.

WEST BAY CITY, Mich., Aug. 10.—The thousands of people who visited Winona beach near Saginaw bay yesterday afternoon, where shocked by a sad drowning accident. About 3 o'clock three boys who were out alone on the bay in a rowboat when it capsized, and as there was not another boat near them, they were all drowned. The bay is being dragged for their bodies. The boys, whose ages were sixteen, eighteen and twelve years respectively, lived in Saginaw. Two of their names were Frank Winterhalter and Charles Wiedmeyer.

GREENCASTLE, Ind., Aug. 10.—Abner Bowman, a Greencastle boy, climbed upon a freight train at the junction, and, falling beneath the wheels, his head was severed completely from the body.
